

The Management of the Label System Srl has the task of ensuring the general orientation of the company to the quality of products, respect for the environment, the worker's health and safety and considers it of primary importance to understand these objectives at all levels of the organisation without distinction of roles and competences.

The commitment is to provide products and services that comply with customer requirements respecting the environment and the right of workers to work in an environment that guarantees their health and safety; realized through the effective application of a Management System Quality.

The General Management of the company pursues the following principles:

- compliance with customer requirements, applicable environmental and safety laws and requirements, striving to use the best available technology economically viable
- the improvement of the quality of the service offered to the customer by intensifying the collaboration starting from the phase of design of the product and the working processes
- the respect and the transparency of the contractual engagements absolved with the customer, taking care of the communication and offering the guarantee of sustainability and continuity of enterprise through an economic and financial vision oriented towards the medium/long term;
- prevention of pollution of the surrounding environment ;
- prevention of occupational accidents and diseases;
- the involvement of all employees through the objectives of the company aimed at meeting customer requirements;
- the adoption of a rational and controlled management of resources, energy, materials and plants in order to minimize waste and risks;
- monitoring of risk analysis and opportunities for improvement;
- the consolidation of relationships with reliable suppliers in order to maximize the benefits deriving from a thorough knowledge of each other's needs, trying to minimize the inconvenience due to late or incorrect supplies.

In order to achieve the objectives set, the company has acquired an awareness of a process-based approach, the basic model of the Quality Management System, making its own the principle that all business activities have, directly or indirectly, effect on the quality of the products, which is why the company orientation is to improve and maintain this level.

The Management undertakes to provide all the necessary resources : financial, human, technical and infrastructural; these resources, if missing, will be defined and quantified annually during the Management's review;

In order to implement this Policy, the Company will set up and try to implement a training and information plan aimed at all operators involved, Information will be disseminated and the awareness that the achievement of business objectives is entrusted to the active collaboration of all.

The General Management

The logo for Label System, featuring the word "label" in a stylized font above "S Y S T E M". A handwritten signature is written over the logo.